With the thought that we will never forget the missing people

Kaeribina

Kaeribina is a doll made in hope that the missing person of the Great East Japan Earthquake can return to his/her family.

"Kaeribina" came to be made with the legend that "If you give a woman who has turned 60 a "kaeribina" doll, the woman can reset her life and start a new life of another 60 years."

After the Great East Japan Earthquake, the kaeribina dolls have been made, reflecting the figures of the important persons who are still missing. Nearly 2,600 people whose whereabouts are still unknown are thought about with a wish of "Please come back," and a determination that they would never be forgotten.

This time 520 bodies of kaeribina dolls will be exhibited. However, please note that nearly five times as many people are still missing. It is sincerely hoped
